No Two Women are Alike

A hormonal imbalance can affect more than your mood-it can be responsible for a number of related health concerns, including: hot flashes, night sweats, PMS, post-partum depression, weight gain, infertility, irregular menstrual cycle, fibrocystic breasts, decreased libido, painful intercourse, and vaginal dryness. These conditions affect millions of women. As the number of women seeking hormone-related treatment has grown, so has the mass production of pills, patches, and creams by the drug industry. Each woman's body is different and has its own unique needs, but commercially manufactured products tend to be "one-size-fits-all", and do not always account for the differences between individuals.

No two women are alike and Hazle Compounding's compounding pharmacists understand this fact. Pharmacy compounding is the art and science of preparing customized medications for patients. The advantage of compounded Hormone Replacement Therapy is that it can be adapted specifically to fit each individual's body and hormone levels. Bio-identical hormones have the exact chemical structure as the hormones in the human body. The body recognizes them and allows them to mimic the function of the hormones the body produces on its own.

Hazle Compounding's experienced compounding specialists may assist your healthcare provider in helping interpret the results of serum or saliva tests which measure a patient's hormone levels. Working closely with your healthcare provider our compounding specialists can use the results of these diagnostic tools to help determine a course of treatment which will give you the exact amount of hormones your body needs.

Along with your physician, our compounding pharmacists can help you maintain a hormone replacement regimen that brings your hormones back into balance and closely mimics what your body has been doing naturally for years. With a healthcare provider's prescription, Hazle Compounding's compounding experts can prepare hormones in a variety of strengths and dosage forms.

Hazle Compounding is an accredited compounding pharmacy by the Pharmacy Compounding Accreditation Board (PCAB).
